A graphic design featuring the Hebrew word "בדבר" (Bdavar) repeated many times. The letters are arranged in a circular, overlapping pattern, creating a dense, textured effect. The text is in a bold, sans-serif font, and the overall composition is centered on a white background.

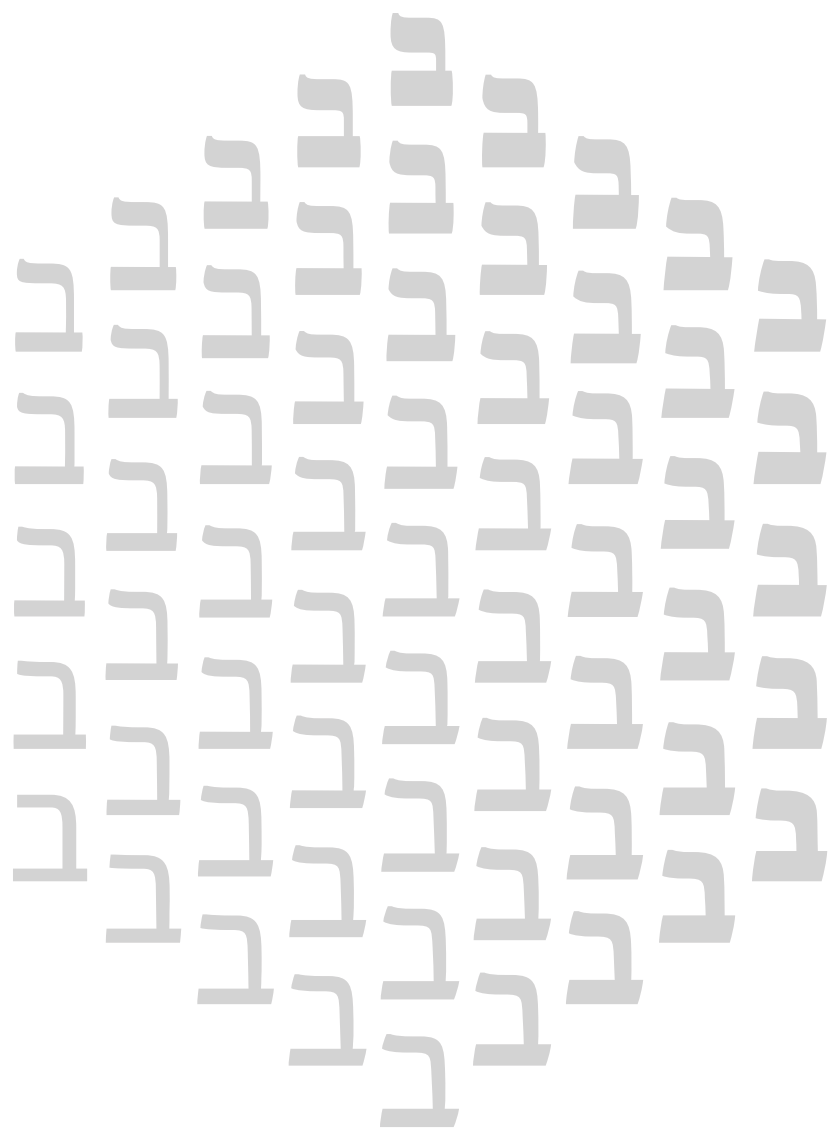

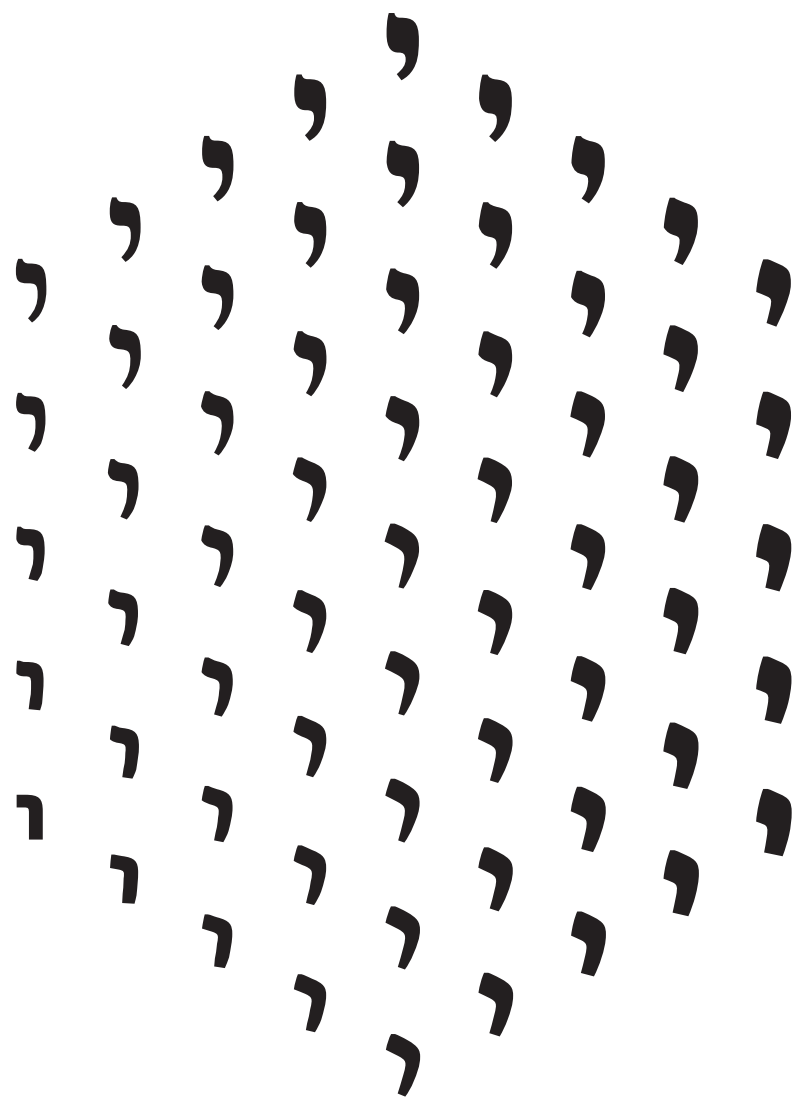

A decorative graphic consisting of multiple vertical columns of stylized, black, handwritten-style characters, possibly the letter 'r', arranged in a rhythmic, staggered pattern. The characters are uniform in style but vary in their vertical alignment across the columns, creating a sense of movement and depth. The overall effect is a dense, textured wall of the same character, reminiscent of a modernist architectural or typographic design.
